There [illegible] only a ripple on change to day, and [illegible] main sentiment is that Keene may, if [illegible] buy all the grain that comes in, [illegible] not injure anybody on 'change [illegible] still here, and so far as known, has [illegible] no further moves on the Milwaukee

Mining Stock Matters

San Francisco, Dec 6 —The Post in its stock article to day publishes the following

We have at last been able to obtain a true statement of the relations which exist between Skae and the Bonanza firm It was at the earnest solicitation of the former gentleman that Mackay and Flood consented to lend their influence and give the result of their experience and resources in properly developing the property Skae attributes the late disaster to misplaced confidence on his part and desire to give the outside public what is known as a fair show He admits that the mine on the 2 100 and 2 200 foot levels did not realize expectations and that the methods of developing the vein were hasty and ill-advised Men whom he deemed to be his best friends went back on him and threw their stock on the market when it was understood that they were to hold on and play for a mine Sharon, we are told, has taken up a portion of his stock and the Bonanza firm are seeing him through with the rest McKenzie was selected as superintendent because he was the best man available and thoroughly understands the practical methods of the deep working carried on in the mines under the charge of the Bonanza firm Mr Skae arrived here from Virginia City to day

Pleasanton, Dec 6 —Yesterday Robert Davis came into town and gave himself over to the officers, stating that he had killed a man named Joe Donnelly in the mountains about 12 miles south of this place The officers, accompanied by Davis, went after the body of Donnelly and found it as he had stated The body was brought to town and an inquest was held to day The jury brought in a verdict of justifiable homicide. It seems that Donnelly had just served a term in the penitentiary for theft, for which service he blamed Davis as Davis was instrumental in procuring his arrest at that time A charge of murder is now preferred against Davis He will have a hearing to-morrow

SENSE ON THE SILVER QUESTION

The New York World concedes that a majority of the people of this country are entitled to bad and oscillating money if they like it But it adds

How is such money to benefit either the wages-earning classes, or debtors or producers in the south or the west? As to the first named, the pay of the day laborer will be the last thing to rise if it ever rises just as it is the last thing to fall, as housekeepers and employers know If a man now gets a dollar a day how is he benefited by getting a silver dollar which costs the government only 85 cents? A dollar is worth to him just what it will buy. The silver men say that silver dollars will increase the price of commodities (they have not as yet) and if so the poor man will certainly be able to buy less with his new dollar And as to debtors if they have not dollars on hand or if they have to earn them what do they gain so long as the new dollar, being worth less than a greenback or a gold dollar costs them a greenback or a gold dollar? If the silver dollars are to inflate prices, then every man's expenses will be greater by so much as prices are inflated As to western and southern producers, their market for their surplus is not in New York or Boston but in Liverpool or Havre, in Hamburg or Bremen Neither England nor France nor Germany will change its money for us as the conference demonstrated, and therefore western wheat and southern cotton must as now be sold for gold. The farmer or planter gets the gold less the freight and handling of his crop and less the ex charge for putting the proceeds out of gold into silver So he gains nothing in what he sells but his crop on the silver theory is more costly to produce, and under silver prices at home on silver theories the producer must get less of that which with his silver money he buys at silver prices

THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC

Work on the Southern Pacific railroad from the crossing of the Colorado river eastward is being rapidly prosecuted Two hundred miles will be graded this winter, and next spring the road will be ironed to Maricopa Wells, which is distant from Yuma about one half the whole width of Arizona territory On the prospect of speedy through connection by the southern route the Chicago Tribune says

In the meantime the Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe road is practically completed on the north from Kansas City to Albuquerque in New Mexico so that by next July there will be comparatively a short gap to be completed when the cars will run through from Chicago over the Chicago Burlington & Quincy road and thence by Topeka, Santa Fe and Yuma to San Francisco. Unless congress interfere to prevent it, the Southern railroad to the Pacific will be completed in eighteen months With active work at both ends it will be pushed with energy This whole road from Topeka Kan , will be built and completed with private capital only not a dollar of subsidy is asked or wanted and yet with this road thus going on to completion there are men in congress and out of it urging that congress shall vote a national subsidy of $40 000 per mile for another road to be built over nearly the same ground

The Standard says "The Oregonian will not appreciate the following notice from the Dayton News 'The Portland Standard is the best morning paper published in Portland Success to you Tony '"

The Oregonian didn't want the News and declined the invitation to send its daily in exchange for a petty weekly with patent outside, worth nothing to anybody for any purpose, and this is old Abbott's rejoinder His paper is worth an exchange with Tony's, no doubt. Being the same in value, they appreciate each other We may add that the same number of the Standard that publishes the above contains ten columns of matter that appeared in The Oregonian the day before.

EUROPEAN NEWS.

Debate in Parliament.

London, Dec 6—In the house of lords an address in reply to the royal speech was moved and debate began.

Earl Granville complained of several omissions in the queen's speech particularly the absence of any mention of the war in South Africa which was viewed with great anxiety by those best acquainted with the colony He said he did not intend to move any amendment to the address because of the lateness of the publication of the correspondence concerning Central Asia It could not make any great difference to parliament whether it met in ... or next February as far as any influence it could exert is on the war which has already been commenced Nobody doubts the absolute prerogative of the crown to make war or peace but it was perfectly certain that the continued recurrence of such surprises will seriously weaken the foundations of the prerogative. He repeated the accusations that Lord Cranbrook's dispatch misrepresented the conduct of the Gladstone government and that Lord Lytton's communication to the ameer of Afghanistan were harsh and indiscreet. He concluded as follows However unnecessary war may have been and however much we may be convinced that you have completely played into the hands of our great rival, we urge this house to co-operate in the strongest manner with the house of commons to make most ample provision for the sake of our gallant troops We trust the government has not made fallacious estimates underrating the expenditure of the Abyssinian war"

Lord Cranbrook secretary of state for India declared that he accepted the entire responsibility from his dispatch and would not withdraw a single sentence He made a detailed statement in its justification and particularly pointed out that Lord Granville in 1873 declined to intimate to Russia that any aggression on Afghanistan would meet with British resistance

Earl Grey moved an amendment to the address expressing regret that parliament was not summoned as soon as possible after war became probable

Duke of Somerset cordially supported the prosecution of the war

Marquis of Salisbury secretary of state for the foreign department repelled personal charges that he had deceived parliament by denying there had been any change of policy toward Afghanistan He said that they were brought forward by Lord Granville to distract the country's attention from the fact that his most attached political friend were siding with the enemies of their country

Lord Beaconsfield then addressed the house He criticized the attitude of the opposition in raising personal questions and challenged them to attack directly the justice and policy of the war He stated that the inspection of Cyprus by his colleagues showed that the island surpassed all the government's expectations and would soon be recognized as one of the most influential positions in the British dominions He expressed the opinion that the results of the victory of General Roberts in Afghanistan would be speedy and satisfactory He believed the worst of the commercial depression was over and expected that in a year the position of affairs would be very different He added in reference to business prospects, that the recent words of the president of the United States, coming from such a quarter on such a subject, can not be treated with too much consideration Enterprise in America reacts on that of England I look forward with much confidence to the influence of American industry and enterprise shortly producing more favorable results than we can now estimate

In conclusion he said the government was prepared to meet parliament's decision however it might affect the ministry individually but he hoped the house would decide to maintain the empire and not sanction a policy which mistakes timidity for wisdom

The amendment moved by Earl Grey was rejected and the address adopted without division

In the debate on the address in the house of commons the Marquis of Hartington made a declaration similar to that of Lord Granville in the upper house, of the intention of himself and his friends not to hamper the government in the conduct of the war by any attempt to oppose the granting of supplies He said that the war having been commenced if necessary for the security of India it should be conducted vigorously

Gladstone spoke briefly, expressing a hope that the house would have more information before a vote of credit was asked.

Let India Bear the Expense.

London Dec 6 —The secretary of state for India in the house of lords and the under secretary for India in the house of commons will on Monday move the following resolution

Resolved That her majesty having directed a military expedition of her forces charged upon the Indian revenues, to be dispatched against the ameer of Afghanistan this house consents that the revenues of India shall be applied to defray the expenses of the military operations which may be carried on beyond the external frontiers of her majesty's Indian possessions

War Matters in Parliament.

London Dec 5 —In the house of commons this afternoon Whitbread Liberal) gave notice that he would offer resolutions disapproving the Afghan war and asked for the appointment of a day for its discussion The chancellor of the exchequer said that he could not postpone the discussion of the government resolution fixed for Monday next

Upon this announcement Hartington appealed to the government to give place to Whitbread's resolution

Gladstone supported Lord Hartington's appeal, but upon Sir Stafford Northcote stating that the government's motion did not necessarily mean to charge all the costs of the war to India he consented to adjourn discussion

Chamberlain (Radical) gave notice of an addition to Whitbread's motion attacking the alleged unconstitutionality of the government's proceedings relative to Afghan stat

Ireland in Parliament.

London Dec 6 —Before the passage of the address in the house of commons McCarthy Downing complained of the absence in the royal speech of any promise to redress Irish grievances. Power and Sullivan (Irish members) protested against the Afghan war Hennessy promised that when the list of measures for the session was produced it would be found that Ireland had not been forgotten

Movements in Central Asia.

Lahore Dec 6 —All quiet in Khyber pass A reconnoissance has been made as far as Peshbolak The ameer is collecting levies near Cabul Gen Biddulph has advanced many miles northeast of Quettah The advance is easy and the natives are friendly

Austria don't like the New Turkish Cabinet.

Vienna Dec 6 —The ministerial crisis at Constantinople has produced a very unfavorable impression here Kheiridam Pasha, the new grand vizier, is one of Austria's bitterest adversaries He urged the sultan to forcibly resist the Austrian occupation of Turkish territory, and he is regarded here as an unscrupulous schemer capable of hastening Turkey to her ruin The change of ministers, it is believed, is mainly attributable to Russian intrigues

A Sensible Man.

Rome Dec 6 —In the chamber of deputies yesterday the minister of the interior combatted the accusations against the government. He refused to fetter the press and showed the uselessness of suppressing clubs

Emperor William's Return.

Berlin, Dec 6 —Emperor William in alighting from the railway station was met by the assembled legislators and officers of the government. He made a speech thanking them for their sympathy in his great affliction and insisting that unhealthy spots in the social system can only be healed by the strong hand of law. In the parade which passed the palace there appeared a large number of Americans bearing the Stars and Stripes Decrees have been promulgated announcing that the emperor resumes government from to day and thanking the crown prince for his successful and devoted performance of the imperial functions and his diligent observance of the principles laid down by the emperor

The Daily Oregonian.

SATURDAY MORNING DEC 18 8

OREGON AND THE N I R R

Already there are coming from Puget Sound pretty loud expressions of gratification over the prospect that Oregon will lose the Northern Pacific railroad A few days ago we pointed out the fact that the new resolve of the company to stand upon their rights under the original grant and to ask nothing more of congress was not favorable to our prospect of securing the road as an Oregon enterprise A year ago the company offered to give up the grant for the branch over the Cascade mountains and accept the condition that the road should be built on the south side of the Columbia river to Portland This would have assured the result which Oregon desires and at the same time the arrangement would have secured to both the eastern and western divisions of Washington territory the service of the road The company were entirely willing to make this concession to Oregon, in order to secure the hearty co-operation of its delegation in congress But this condition which should have been accepted at once was rejected by being coupled with other propositions which the company could not possibly admit The opportunity passed the company have now decided that it would be better to rely on such franchises as they have than to renew the struggle for results which they have heretofore sought in vain, and in consequence the chance which was offered to Oregon has slipped away In response to this we find the Seattle Intelligencer saying There is good news for us in this intelligence coupled as it is with the implied promise of an active renewal of the work One thing at least, it means, the abandonment of the Oregon maneuver of shifting the route from the north to the south side of the Columbia river

Among the most earnest supporters of the Mitchell programme which has brought this result was the present editor of the Seattle Intelligencer who, up to a few months since as editor of the Seattle Dispatch strongly commended what Mitchell was doing He did this because he saw, as we saw, that Mitchell s course would result in Oregon's losing the road, and he was contending for what he conceived to be the special interests of his own locality. Now we are willing that the road shall be built by any route which will serve the northwest, and certainly would prefer to see it pass north of the Columbia river rather than not be built at all At the same time there has been a natural desire here that Oregon should have the advantages of the road since, upon the plan proposed this result could be secured without injury to Washington territory, through whose eastern division the road would pass and whose western division would have its terminus. Oregon had a chance to obtain this direct connection But through Mitchell s efforts, put forth with fraudulent professions of fidelity to the interests of Oregon, this chance is probably lost. Those persons in our state who have heretofore been misled by a certain kind of plausibility with which this scheme was invested, will now see how every incident and circumstance furnish cumulative proof of the great error and wrong which has been committed There were those who saw all this a year ago as clearly as they do now. It is written at large in the files of THE OREGONIAN

A Montana paper says it is firmly believed that a party of hostile Bannocks, one of the bands that fled in various directions when Gen. Howard routed them last summer are this winter camped in the Salmon river mountains, with the intention of forcing their way north next spring If so, the people of that section will suffer as usual in life, property and interruption of industry Other bands of Bannocks and Nez Perces are now in the British possessions and parties from there will probably be crossing and recrossing, keeping the country in continual alarm The governor of the territory, in view of the situation, has submitted to the authorities at Washington the question whether the United States will not take measures to bring before the British government the inquiry whether something cannot be done to prevent the British territory from being used as a refuge to our absconding hostiles, who sit down as soon as they cross the border, and return thence at their convenience to murder our people and steal their property If Great Britain cannot put a stop to this she ought to make no objection to our pursuit of these bands into her territory for the purpose of chastising them or we ought to do it without permission just as we have been pursuing raiding Mexicans over the Rio Grande.

The conflict between the Indian bureau and the army rages all along the line Officers find that it is becoming exceedingly monotonous to fight through the wars whose origin they attribute mainly to the mismanagement of the Indian bureau Gen Gibbon in his report to the war department seconds criticisms and censures pronounced by Gens Sheridan, Pope and Crook, and observes that ' the average Indian agent intent upon the spiritual welfare of the red man desirous of elevating his soul and achieving what has never yet been reached in a single generation—making a civilized man of him—too frequently neglects his bodily wants ' and the consequence is that ' while the agent imagines he is preparing him for heaven the Indian thinks he is actually making for him a hell on earth Then the Indian goes on the war path, and the army, with inadequate numbers, is forced upon a most difficult exhausting and perilous service The intimation given by the military officers is that now after many years of this kind of sport they are naturally getting tired And the settlers are tired, too.

The New York Graphic organ of fiatism, puts the question, " What is to prevent congress at its next session from passing an act withdrawing the entire circulation of the national banks and substituting greenbacks in its place?" And the Philadelphia Record a Democratic organ of sound money answers There are obviously many reasons In the first place the only way to withdraw the circulation of the banks would be to repeal the act under which they exist which would derange the business of the country and spread ruin broadcast In the second place as congress has no power to issue greenbacks it could not substitute them for the national bank circulation even if it were injudicious enough to attempt to destroy the banks

A great many unofficial reports have been published of the loss of life during the late war of the rebellion, but there are some recent official estimates which probably come pretty near a correct record The total loss from all causes is put down at 3.6 233 of which only 175,764 have been identified A death roll of 34,803 men of the entire a no in t is the total known to have died in cap Of rebel prisoners o. wa , .1,5.. remains are known to have been buried but the statistics of losses on that side are incomplete There are seventy two national cemeteries for the union dead in addition to which are 320 local and post cemeteries The largest of these is at Vicksburg, Mississippi which contains 17 012

The organ that remarked the other morning that it hadn t room for the president's message and that the document wasn t worth printing anyhow has readily found room for it since THE OREGONIAN had it specially transmitted here at heavy additional expense to its telegraph account But it s all right Those papers which rely for prosperity on printing news from a day to a week after it has appeared in THE OREGONIAN are not having a remarkably successful career But it suits them perhaps as a tramp often has no ambition beyond the broken victuals he picks up a back doors

There is increasing bitterness of opposition to Beaconsfield at home It arises from a growing impression that he was utterly deceived in his claim that England had gained great things through the Berlin treaty, and that the results of the treaty insured a long European peace There is a fear that the nation is on the verge of a war which will tax its powers to the utmost and that this situation is the result of a series of diplomatic mistakes

A steady growth of taxable property is reported in Montana The rolls for 1878 show an increase of $1 400 704 over those of 1877 Every county shows a gain That of Deer Lodge is largest of any

not long ago a stranger, evidently a farmer stepped into

and walking up to the Proprietor, asked: "Is this the Farmers' and Mechanics' Store?" The answer was yes, when the following dialogue took place:

(In order to save space we will designate the letter "F." for the supposed Farmer, and "Pr. F. & M." for the proprietor of the F. & M. Store)

F— Well is this the place where they give goods away for nothing
P F & M — No sir
F — Well ain t this the place where everything is sold
P F & M — Not altogether
F — What do you do then
P F & M —We buy and sell merchandise
F — Do not all storekeepers do the same
P F & M — We think they do

F — How is it then that the people living in my locality make such a fuss about you and send their orders here and many claim that you give them such great bargains that I would like to know what it is all about

P F & M — I shall try and answer you [illegible] plainly In the first place you are evidently laboring under a mistaken impression We never sold goods half for nothing nor did we claim to do so nor did we ever claim to sell cheap goods nor goods cheap it would be an impossibility for us to do either To sell goods lower than cost would not permit us to exist To sell cheap goods would only meet the demand of the very poorest people whereas our immense trade is composed of the poor middle and wealthy people consequently we must keep all grades of good As for selling cheap we use no such word We claim to give full value for the money which is far preferable to selling cheap which we can show you by illustration Suppose you go into a store and price a suit of clothing and the salesman charges you $20 for it saying it is cheap very cheap that he said Brown just bought one like it for $25 Now suppose you buy the suit for $20 how do you know it is cheap The party paying $25 may have been told that the suit was cheap and after all the real value of the suit may only be from $1 to $15

F —This argument is correct enough but it only applies to such persons as are no judges of goods and believe what the salesman tells them But supposing a person is a judge of goods what then

P F & M — "I shall answer the question by asking you one Are you a judge of goods?
F — Well no not a good judge
P F & M — Then you are as liable to pay $20 for a $15 suit as any one else
F — Well yes if some fellow lied right smart and I believed him
P F & M — Now another question Do you believe if you had a horse which you wanted to sell and you knew the full value to be $60 would you ask an old horse dealer $100 for him No of course not You would ask $60 Now suppose you had a customer who knew nothing about the real value of horses and you were certain you could get double the value of the horse by praising him up a bit would you do it"

F — Well I'll declare Now you have me But clothing dry goods boots hats blankets etc , are not horses whereas there are few judges of horses and many judges of clothing

P F & M — So it would appear but in reality it is not so There are but few people who are judges of goods It is a study for years for a person to become a good judge of a pair of shoes so as to know the value of them For instance he is obliged to know the value of the goods the former and present price, the value and quality of the labor the intrinsic value of the article in comparison with similar goods from other manufactories all of which takes several years to learn

F —" Do you then consider the majority of people ignorant of the true value of goods "

P F & M —" No we do not In fact the good salesman has learned the greater part of his knowledge of goods from the people but we mean to say that under no circumstances is it possible to find a community who are all expert judges of clothing boots and shoes You may find a few who are expert in one or two lines but experts are very rare

F—" Then the majority of the people are at the mercy of retail dealers
P F & M — To a great extent they are some more than others
F— You have not told me what are the advantages to be obtained by trading in this house

P F & M — We shall again answer this question by asking a question Supposing you had the option of dealing at two stores which we will call A and B At A you could if you were an expert get fair value for your money and if you were not the accommodating shopkeeper would soon find it out to your cost At B the business is so regulated that not a single party is charged more or less than the full value The price is marked in plain figures so that all can see it and this price is subject to no change to favor a sale or a customer—where the scales of justice are carefully balanced where poor and rich the simple and the expert are treated alike

F—" By all means I would do my trading at B

P F & M — Now you are answered Our business is done on the system of B that is all we claim to do this we have done since we started in business and you see the public have arrived at just the same conclusion which is, that they cannot do better and stand many chances of doing worse elsewhere It would be very foolish for us to take the slightest advantage of one of our customers for by doing so we would injure our trade A retail business of our extent cannot afford to risk its reputation for any present advantage consequently it is a benefit to all

Y CLOTHING

The Daily Oregonian.

CITY.

CHICKEN THIEVES.—For some time past persons residing in the upper portion of the city have been missing chickens Roosts were robbed without stint and notwithstanding every effort was made to discover the thieves, no one was detected A few days ago a gentleman was passing through the thick brush which is located a short distance beyond the old brewery near the macadamized road he suddenly came on a Chinaman The celestial had a sack filled with something He seemed very much frightened and ran away Soon after Mr. Thomas who has charge of one of the routes of THE OREGONIAN had occasion to pass that way, and found seven chickens which had been left in a sack but managed to get out He captured the chickens, and has them now Any person identifying these chickens can have them There can be no doubt but that these numerous petty larcenies have been committed by Chinamen They would rob a roost put the chickens in a sack convey them to the place before mentioned and leave them there and during the night slip out quietly and bring them in. This work has been carried on for some weeks, and during the time hundreds of chickens have been stolen A sharp look out is being kept now that the celestials' little game has been dropped on, and it is quite probable that some of these expert thieves will be brought to condign punishment before long

WOLVES.—The Washington county paper says "For two or three years past the wolves have been infesting Washington county, and in this time they have destroyed several thousand dollars' worth of stock They have been particularly destructive in the Dairy creek district and the North Plains. Their predatory raids have hitherto been confined to the winter season going back to the mountains late in the spring returning late in the fall, but this year they have staid with us all summer Mr. Mooney Meek has alone lost nearly seventy head of sheep this season All stock owners in the county should take more effective measures against the wolves Hunting wolves down with dogs is slow work Poison should be used extensively in the mountains and foot-hills to destroy them It won't do to let them get a firm foot-hold among us. So damaging have become their depredations of late that raising sheep is unprofitable. The farmers should generally join the wolf club and pay up their assessments. Some persons have already killed wolves who did not get the bounty thereby.

PROBABLY DROWNED.—One of the sailors belonging to an English ship which now lies moored near the wharf below the boneyard has been missing since Thursday evening and the probabilities are that he has been drowned. The sailor was ashore Thursday evening in company with the mate of the vessel. Both started to return to their vessel about 10 o'clock. The sailor told the mate that he wanted to go on board another vessel for a short time. The men separated the mate going on board his vessel at once However, the sailor failed to put in an appearance, and yesterday morning his hat was found floating in the river It is supposed he attempted to get aboard the vessel, and missing his footing fell overboard and perished Efforts were being made yesterday to recover the body, but without success

FROM ASTORIA.—Trenchard & Upshur sent the following dispatch from Astoria yesterday at 5 P.M. British ship Mountaineer, from Portland, arrived at 11 o'clock A M British bark Bay, British bark Strathearn and steamer North Bend arrived, the first at noon, and last two at 2 P M Comparatively light wind, from the southwest, bar rough and raining The Oregon crossed out at 1 P. M

TEMPERANCE MEETING.—Advocates of the cause of temperance will remember the open meeting to take place this evening at the Y. M. C. A. rooms Extensive preparations have been made, and a most profitable time is anticipated. Dr J W Watts will be present and address the meeting on the subject of temperance Other speakers will be present and address the meeting

LARCENY.—Edward Thompson, a petit thief was convicted of the larceny of a couple of shirts yesterday afternoon and in default of the payment of $25 sent to the county jail. Mary Moore and Thomas Costigan another pair of pilferers were apprehended for stealing clothing from the Scandinavian saloon on North First street. Their case will be heard this afternoon

LECTURES UPON SWITZERLAND.—Rev Mr Eliot will begin to-morrow evening in the chapel of the Unitarian Church a course of lectures upon Switzerland and the great names connected with its history The preliminary lecture will be on The Black Forest." The Bible reading each evening will be followed by brief comments on passing events

NEW BUILDING.—A force of men is engaged in excavating for the foundation of the new brick building to be erected at the foot of Oak street by Mrs Sherlock This building is to be 25x100 feet and three stories high Messrs McCullough & Martin have the contract for the stone foundation and will push the work through to an early completion

THE MEDICAL SCHOOL.—This winter's term of the Oregon Medical School will be inaugurated one week from next Monday evening by a public lecture in Taylor Street Church by Dr R. Glisan After that date lectures will be given daily in the Hook and Ladder building on Fourth street between Morrison and Yamhill

IMPROVING THE FURNACE.—Messrs McCullough & Martin, the stone masons, have the contract for making improvements to the Oswego Iron Works The furnace and oven will be raised about 14 feet higher and some other required alterations will be made The work will be commenced about the 1st of January.

NEW TRIAL.—This morning the motion for a new trial in the case of State vs Archie Brown, now under conviction for murder in the first degree, will be argued before Judge Bellinger The argument promises to be very elaborate and exhaustive, and will probably consume half a day or more

THE WEEKLY.—This paper is now ready for sale at the counter with or without wrappers for 10 cents a copy. It is a magnificent number containing the president's message, telegraphic dispatches, miscellany, editorials, market review state and territorial news, and local intelligence

SEAMEN'S SERVICES.—The Portland Seamen's Friend Society will hold its next regular service on board the Coulloch at 2 P. M to-morrow. The vessel is lying at Smith's wharf, foot of Madison street, and every arrangement has been made "between decks" to accommodate all who attend

CHINESE BUSINESS.—The brick building being put up at the corner of Second and Alder streets by a Chinese firm is progressing finely and will probably be completed by the close of the year. It will be one of the largest buildings in the town and will accommodate a large number.

MUSICAL.—As we passed up First street a few evenings since we heard an organ in one of the saloons playing "Home, Sweet Home" We think that the proprietor should buy an instrument that would play that air

PRIZE SHOOTING AND BALL.—The German Sharpshooters' club proposes to hold a grand prize shooting and its first annual ball within a very short time. Full particulars will be announced at an early day

AMUSEMENTS

MATINEE.—The minstrels will give an afternoon performance at New Market this afternoon The programme is made up of their very best pieces and cannot fail to please the little folks

THE MINSTRELS.—The performance given at New Market last night by Callender's Minstrels was one of the best if not the very best which has been given during their engagement The ballads were unusually good and each received a hearty encore The dancing by little Dick Kersands and the banjo performance of Mr James Bohee were particularly good and each received tremendous applause Mr Bohee played the Carnival of Venice in most wonderful and pleasing style To night will probably be the last appearance of the minstrels A new programme will be produced and a good performance is assured

MISS ADA CAVENDISH.—Manager Maguire by the exercise of managerial tact and enterprise has succeeded in securing for a limited season Miss Ada Cavendish the great emotional English actress who is now playing such a successful stellar engagement in San Francisco This gifted lady will leave on the steamer in time to reach here to open at New Market Theater on Monday 16th inst Her engagement will last for only two weeks

Miss Ada Cavendish who has created so favorable an impression in New York and elsewhere since her arrival in this country made her first appearance on the stage in Sussex Eng when only 15 years of age Aug 31 1863 she made her London debut in the New Royalty Theatre which had been known to amateurs as "Miss Kelly's Theatre" and was then opened by Mrs Chas Selby Miss Cavendish acted Selina Scroggs in an extravaganza entitled The Pirates of Putney During the following September she played Venus in Ixion and during its long run she attracted considerable attention Her next character was the more important one of the Princess Superb in Rumplestiltskin When Doctor Westland Marston's Hero of Romance was produced in the Haymarket Theater she acted a character in which it was at once seen that her capabilities had loftier pretensions than could be developed in burlesque In January 1867 she increased her reputation by an excellent performance of Mrs Pinchback in Home and made a greater success by subsequently acting Florinda Tolomei in Put to test When the late Walter Montgomery opened the Gaiety Theater in August 1871 Miss Cavendish was engaged to play the leading business In 18 she was engaged at the Court Theater and at the close of that year she made her first venture in management opening the Olympic Theater with The New Magdalen which ran the entire season and in which she acted Mercy Merrick This drama was then played during a provincial tour and was reproduced at the Charring Cross Theater London in 1874. Miss Cavendish made her American debut in the Broadway Theater New York acting the same character September 9th last

CRIMINAL CAPTURE

The Oregon City paper says At the last term of the circuit court of this county a man by the name of W R Smith resident of Silverton and a butcher by occupation was indicted, tried and found guilty of the crime of larceny having driven to his yard several beef cattle the property of another slaughtering and sold them At his preliminary examination some weeks before his final trial he deposited $200 in coin as bail for his appearance at the circuit court to answer any charge that might be presented against him by the grand jury and accordingly he was present aiding his attorney in his defense After the jury brought in their verdict and before the time fixed for sentence had arrived Smith skipped the county, and since then he has managed to elude the vigilance of the sheriff His whereabouts was a matter of uncertainty until a couple of weeks or more ago, when the sheriff learned he was east of the mountains at Goldendale He wrote at once to sheriff Crossen, of The Dalles and in a few days got a dispatch that his man was found and was awaiting his disposal Last week the sheriff went up and brought him down After lying in jail for several days at this place his attorney obtained an order of court from Judge Bellinger admitting him to bail in the sum of $500, to appear for sentence at the next term of the circuit court He ought to be given 'full up' time for running away

HOMICIDE

A correspondent writing to an exchange from Gray's River W T says

Our neighborhood was thrown into quite an excitement on the morning after Thanksgiving on hearing of the killing of William Strong by Charles M Stark, they being near neighbors on Gray's river About 10 o'clock that day Mr Stark came to my residence and stated that he had killed Mr Strong the evening before, that he had done it in self defense and came to give himself in custody of the law I immediately took him in custody and proceeded to Stark's residence and took possession of the body and summoned a jury to hold an inquest After a thorough examination of the body, premises and witnesses the jury returned a verdict to the effect that the deed was done in self defense

After the verdict of the coroner Mr Stark had a preliminary examination Several witnesses were sworn and the evidence all went to show that Strong left his house and went to Stark's with the intent of killing him His gun failing to go off he cocked the other barrel and was in the act of firing, when Stark shot him Not finding evidence sufficient to bind him over to await the action of the grand jury he was discharged from custody

A REPLY TO A FALSE ACCUSATION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

On the 4th inst there appeared in your paper under the title A Falsehood Corrected an article from Spencer the chief of police many parts of which now more particularly [illegible] ness while other parts falsely [illegible] myself may so familiar the accuser [illegible] consider [illegible] charged with [illegible] am a stranger and plead not guilty [illegible] charge [illegible] truth [illegible] reason will readily perceive [illegible] man to take [illegible] and to do this knowing [illegible] one at [illegible] the relative [illegible] I will have answered [illegible] But I am not content even to apply the test of common sense to [illegible] made and will now present [illegible] evidence of my innocence over the signatures of two reliable citizens [illegible] Cornell and J [illegible] Riley [illegible] commissioners at the time of my removal

[illegible] Riley says

At the time [illegible] T Belcher was removed from the police force I was a member of the board of police commissioners and I never heard at the time of his removal heard of any such charges against him as Spencer [illegible] regard [illegible] and I am satisfied that Commissioner Cornell or any other commissioner or the chief of police knew [illegible] such charges It was their duty to lay them before the board of commissioners [illegible]

Dated Dec 6 1878 R [illegible] RILEY

Mr E W Cornell says

At the time C T Belcher was removed from the police force I was a member of the board of police commissioners and at the time of his removal knew of no charge against him nor had I heard of any official misconduct since This statement I make at his request (Signed) E W CORNELL

Dated Dec 6 1878

The public will pardon me for taking notice of the accusations alluded to for I have only done so lest those unacquainted with the dark ways of our fast falling chief may give some weight to that which upon thoughtful reading will readily appear to be a self contradiction

In conclusion, I have this to say that if nature has endowed a man with gifted [illegible] let him be a man and not attribute to others that which he is habituated himself and that when one falsely accuses another he makes use of that which would more easily apply to himself than to the accused

FELLOWS'

Compound Syrup

Is composed of ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle Nerve and Brain Substance, whilst Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them

Dr. Howe's Testimony.

During the past two years I have given Fellows Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites a fair though somewhat severe trial in my practice In restoring persons suffering from emaciation and the debility following diphtheria it has done wonders I constantly recommend its use in all affections of the throat and lungs. In several cases considered hopeless it has given relief, and the patients are fast recovering. Among these are consumptive and old bronchial subjects, whose diseases have resisted other modes of treatment. For impaired digestion and in fact for debility from any cause, I know of nothing equal to it. WM. M HOWE M D

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN.

His Wonderful Success

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

Chronic and Difficult Diseases.

He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease, in plain and comprehensive language But where he has found them crushed and broken down by disease, mentally and physically he has restored them to health and happiness for it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness.

DR. BRENAN has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases. Catarrh Bronchitis and all diseases of the throat and chest, by an entirely new system only known to himself Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs including Spermatorrhea. Seminal Weakness or premature loss of Manhood. In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world wide reputation by his astonishing success not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States. Diseases of the stomach bowels liver and kidneys as well as all diseases of the blood and skin he has become master of, and never fails to give relief at once, and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time

THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints and understands their delicate and refined organization as well as the proper remedies which should be used to allay their suffering and restore them to perfect health

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE over most physicians—he can tell the patients' disease the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual This accounts in part for this great professional success

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand, and the patient need not fear the result.

DR. BRENAN will send to those living at a distance and who can not well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally and will forward the proper medicines, or instruments to any part of the country with full instructions and advice Each letter requiring advice or list of questions must contain two postage stamps.

Everything strictly confidential and honorable

THE DOCTOR has studied in the best Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify

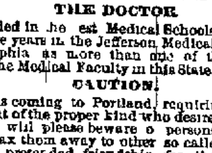
CAUTION!

Persons coming to Portland requiring medical treatment of the proper kind who desire to consult with me will please beware of persons who may try to coax them away to other so called Doctors through pretended friendship for the patients Look out for them they are knaves, prompted by selfish motives and what they can make. Be sure and ask for DR. PAUL M. BRENAN the Medical Lecturer, and read his sign on his door

Office, 63 First street, over McCormick's Franklin Bookstore.

REWARD.

$500 REWARD WILL BE PAID TO ANY one who has ever applied to me for a cure and failed in being restored to permanent health also the above reward will be paid to any one who will present a case that I will not cure Sum up courage and come to see me for I cure



All sickness and disease of whatsoever name or nature without medicine except where it is actually required The following are a few of the diseases that yield to my wonderful powers. Chronic Catarrh Bronchitis Asthma Consumption Female Complaints Dyspepsia, Rheumatism Scrofula Cancers Tumors, Diseases of the Urinary and Genital Organs Kidneys Heart Liver, and all Chronic Diseases that baffle the skill of other physicians

I am willing to forfeit $500 for any case of seminal weakness loss of vigor or any private disease of either sex brought on by indiscretion or any other cause that I fail to cure within three weeks without interruption to business
